Window Wonderland

Streeter and Zimmerly flip the switch at Window Wonderland!

On Friday, November 22, downtown Wooster was bustling with people of all ages, local retailer storefronts were decorated for the holiday season and the stage was set to light the Community Christmas Trees. Known as Window Wonderland, this 30-plus-year tradition started off with Scott Allen of Whitaker-Myers Group welcoming the crowd to downtown and asking everyone to join in on the singing of Christmas carols. After setting the stage, Allen introduced Mary Alice Streeter who lit the 135 foot tall Norway Spruce at the Wooster Cemetery on Wooster's south-end. On the count of three, Streeter flipped the switch and illuminated more than 1,400 lights on the mighty Spruce and the crowd cheered with enjoyment. Allen, then welcomed the Samira Zimmerly family to the stage, where 5-year-old Jaxton and 14-year-old Trey flipped the switch for the lighting of the Childrens Christmas Tree located on the southeast quad of public square.

After the lighting of the trees, Allen turned the ceremony over to Tim Wilson, who drew the crowds attention to the Briggs Financial roof, where Santa appeared to hundreds of excited boys and girls. The night undoubtedly created many memories for those in attendance and officially kicked off the holiday season in downtown Wooster.

Chamber hosts 2nd successful Grow with Google event

The Chamber hosted its second Grow with Google seminar in November.

National Google Digital Coach, Angelina Darrisaw, returned to share best practices and how to analyze trends about the ways customers engage with businesses online, and how to turn these insights into well-informed, actionable decisions.

Approximately 50 people attended the session to learn more about how the data Google collects can help them target the appropriate audience and make informed decisions about their businesses.

During the session she discussed how to identify the ways customers are finding businesses online and how to ensure your business is present on social media platforms used by your customers.

Rodd Welker, of Eagle Advisor Group, spoke to the group about Leadership and Followership. There are no leaders without followers. Though following is not a passive role. In fact, followers are essentially people who have all the leadership skills that leaders have.

Thank you to Rodd Welker for presenting and to Jimmy John's for catering.

Small Business Saturday

Shop Small with us all year long!

The Wooster Chamber along with other community organizations and local citizenry participated in Shop Small Saturday on November 30.

In its tenth year, the Shop Small Saturday initiative continues to grow as it competes against other sales events such as Black Friday and Cyber Monday. Shop Small Saturday has become a holiday tradition with a focus on supporting local businesses!

We want to remind you all how important it is to Shop Small all year long. You may ask yourself, "why is shopping small so important?" When you shop small, you are creating and supporting local jobs, helping pay the salary of your friends and neighbors, and supporting big dreams! These small businesses also tend to support and give back to the local community.

Small Businesses make up a large majority of Wooster and Wayne County and create a sense of community through familiar faces. We encourage you to Shop Small all year long and support our local businesses!

Nov. Safety Council Recap: Mental Wellness and Holistic Healing

During the November meeting, Brooke Winkler, of Engaging the Spirit, spoke to the Safety Council group about Mental Wellness and Holistic Healing. She shared some of her traumas and struggles and the ways she has found to cope with them. She is a registered yoga teacher and Laugh-A-Yoga teacher. She is also an MARI Practitioner and a heart-centered hypnotherapist.

Brooke has searched for alternative treatment options. Art therapy is one thing she has found to be helpful for herself and others. Each of the Safety Council attendees was given an opportunity to participate in an art therapy activity during the meeting. They were asked to choose a piece of clay as they entered the meeting. Then they had to think of an animal that best fits their personality and then sculpt that animal out of the clay. Everyone was then told to sculpt a corresponding item for each person's animal at their table. So an item for a dog could be a leash or a blanket. These items were meant to represent ways to restrain your most notable characteristics. For the dog, the leash could represent control or assistance depending on the person's perspective. This exercise provided a great opportunity for the Safety Council members to interact with the people at their table. Thank you to First Presbyterian Church for the meeting space, Brooke Winkler for presenting and Village Catering Company for providing the meal for the luncheon.

Special thanks to

The December meeting will be at First Presbyterian Church. Lunch will be served beginning at 11:30 a.m. and the meeting will conclude around 1 p.m.

Chamber and community members travel to Portugal

A strong Wooster Chamber contingent of more than thirty enjoying the barren headlanes at Cape St. Vincent in Sagres, Portugal on Sunday, November 3, 2019.

Thirty-four Wooster Chamber and Community Members traveled to beautiful Portugal, on a trip organized by the Wooster Chamber. In the recent past, the Wooster Chamber has extended unique all-inclusive travel opportunities to its members of which strong support has been realized. The contingent that traveled to Portugal from October 29 through November 7, was offered a comprehensive overview of the culture, landscape, and history of the country, all while enjoying the company of fellow Wooster citizens. The trip itinerary included stays in the city center of Cascais, the vast vineyards of Beja, the harbor of Lagos and the main metro of Lisbon. The days were filled with activities ranging from walking tours of various cities to the exploration of the world-famous Fatima area and the majestic sights of the ocean cliffs of Sagres, Portugal.

The primary focus of any Chamber organized trip is to offer local citizenry a unique and affordable option for traveling internationally and to build strong relationships with fellow travelers. Justin Starlin, President of the Chamber referenced that “these trips have built lasting relationships over the years, that folks talk about regularly. It is amazing the type of bond that is generated over an eight-day international trip”

Beginning in 2010, the Wooster Chamber began offering international travel opportunities and has sponsored trips to China, Ireland, Cuba, Thailand, Spain, and Portugal. Plans are already being made for a trip in 2021 and could include countries such as Vietnam, Croatia or Iceland, so keep your eyes open for an announcement in the summer of 2020.
